

E. Ross Bradley

A graduate of the Ontario College of Art and the University of Guelph, Ross Bradley has exhibited nationally and internationally for more than 30 years. His studio practice has focused on the human figure for the past twenty years, working in drawing, sculpture and photography. He has taught adult education programs, including figure drawing over the past fifteen years at the Kootenay School of the Arts, Medicine Hat Cultural Centre, EPCOR Center for the Arts and Harcourt House Arts Center. He is a life member of the Alberta Society of Artists and has served on the Canadian Craft Council.

